1. Purpose and Scope

To outline the process for UNSW staff to obtain approval for establishing a new, or renewing an existing, International Memorandum of Understanding and/or Student Agreement with international institutions.

All International Memorandum of Understanding and Student Agreements are executed at a University level as per the Delegations of Authority. International Memorandum of Understanding and Student Agreements are not to be executed at a Faculty/School/Unit level.

2. Definitions

Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) – an overarching non-legally binding document indicating an intention to undertake collaboration with an international institution. There are 3 types of MOUs covering General, Teaching and Research collaboration.

Student Agreement - sets out the terms and conditions of any specific arrangements made between an international institution and UNSW. There are a range of Student Agreements that may be developed within the categories of student award or non-award and teaching. They may form (i) an appendix to a MOU or (ii) a stand-alone Student Agreement.

Specific types of MOUs & respective Agreements

A. General MOU - To facilitate academic and educational cooperation between the institutions.

Student Award or Non-Award Agreement - Sets out the terms and conditions for non-award or award study and may form an appendix to a General MOU.

- Student Exchange Agreement [Non-award] - a reciprocal agreement where students study at a partner university as non-award full-time students for one or two semesters and receive credit at the home university.
- Student Exchange Agreement [Award] – a reciprocal agreement where students enrolled in a dual award program under an international agreement are allowed to do so as exchange students at one of the partner universities.
- Practicum Exchange Agreement - a reciprocal agreement where students obtain research experience as non-award full-time research students at a partner university.
- Study Abroad Agreement - an agreement where students from a partner university study at UNSW as non-award full-time coursework students for one or two semesters and receive credit at the home university. This is a full-fee arrangement where students pay fees to UNSW.

B. Teaching MOU - Sets out an intention to collaborate with an international institution regarding coursework degree related study. The Teaching Agreement may form an appendix to a Teaching MOU.

Teaching Agreement - Sets out the terms and conditions and key academic and administrative arrangements for a collaborative program of study that will lead to a coursework award or awards.

- Articulation Agreement - is an arrangement that establishes a defined qualification pathway whereby a student is admitted to a UNSW program with the automatic granting of credit based on a completed or partially completed qualification at a partner institution. The agreement recognises the agreed prior study deemed equivalent for the purposes of enabling students to gain advanced standing. In the case of articulation arrangements based on partially completed qualifications, those leading to 48 units of credit or more advanced standing in a UNSW program should be formalised as part of a formal articulation [teaching] agreement in accordance with this procedure.
- Twinning Agreement - an arrangement where UNSW and a partner university each delivers part of a program leading to a single award and, by agreement, one of the institutions confers the award. It extends beyond a recognition of prior learning arrangement as it involves academic collaboration between the institutions and students enrol with the express intent of completing the twinning qualification.

- Dual Award Agreement – an arrangement where UNSW and a partner university jointly develop a program pathway where students study for two awards in a defined pattern with cross-crediting of courses. Subject to meeting the agreed requirements for the awards at the respective institutions, students graduate with two awards and two testamurs, one from each institution.
- Pathways Agreement – an arrangement with UNSW Global or another provider for entry to a UNSW program following successful completion of a pre-University or enabling program

C. Research MOU - To establish research links between the institutions and to strengthen research collaboration. The Joint PhD Program agreement may form an appendix to a Research MOU.

- Joint PhD Program – a joint PhD is awarded by collaborating institutions that have entered into a Memorandum of Understanding on research training activities. PhD candidates approved for entry into a joint PhD program will be supervised by a UNSW supervisor and a supervisor at an approved partner institution. Each joint PhD candidature is governed by an individual student proposal and agreement outlining the specific terms.

3. Procedure

3.1 Expression of Interest (EOI)

UNSW Academic Staff interested in establishing an International MOU or Student Agreement should complete the Expression of Interest (EOI) form, seek support from the Dean of their Faculty and then email the completed form to internationalmous@unsw.edu.au

An administrator from UNSW International or the Division of Research will contact the proposer of the EOI if more information is required.

3.2 Criteria for approval

The key criteria for all International MOUs or Student Agreements is that the proposed partner is a top tier institution, exemplified by a ranking in the Shanghai Jiao Tong top 200, Times Higher Education or QS World University rankings. Alternatively, a defined long term capacity building relationship with a selected partner where the relationship is clearly defined in a UNSW Faculty/School strategy is required.

The following additional criteria apply for:

3.2.1 General MOUs and Agreements

- Existing academic, teaching, mentoring and/or research connections with UNSW
- Existing relationships with other top tier institutions

3.2.2 Student Non-Award Agreement

- For reciprocal agreements sufficient UNSW student interest is required at the partner institution
- Designated Exchange (or equivalent) Office which provides support and advice to students on arrival and throughout their exchange and places emphasis on providing exchange students with a high quality exchange experience
- Excellent student support services
- High quality programs that have a natural synergy with UNSW programs

3.2.3 Teaching MOU and Agreements

- Rigorous admission and English language standards are required
- Students are studying high quality programs that have a natural synergy with UNSW programs
- Endorsement by Faculty Standing Committee and in certain circumstances Academic Board (e.g. New Program)
- Must result in increased student enrolment into UNSW programs from that institution
- Pathways from UNSW Global programs

3.2.4 Research MOU and Agreements

- Facilitate productive, high impact, international research collaborations involving a critical mass of researchers
- Result in increased international research funding and research outputs
- Ability to showcase UNSW research and researchers
- Enhance the profile and visibility of UNSW as a research-intensive University

3.3 Approval Process

The initial approval for International MOUs and related Student Agreements is:

- A. General MOU or Agreement – Pro-Vice-Chancellor (International)
- B. Teaching MOU or Agreement – Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Students)
- C. Research MOU or Agreement – Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Research)

Note – If the MOU incorporates both Teaching & Research, approval is required from both the Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Students) & Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Research).

Final approval of all International MOUs and Student Agreements is by the Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) or the Vice-President and Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) as per UNSW Delegations of Authority.

3.4 Execution

All International MOUs and Student Agreements are executed by the signing and mutual exchange of an MOU or Student Agreement document. An administrator from the appropriate office will make arrangements for signing and exchange of the final document with the international institution.

3.5 Records

All International MOUs and Student Agreements are recorded and filed in TRIM managed by Records Management.

3.6 Further Information
